

DCC Digital Curation 101 'Lite'

Thursday 6th October 2011, 10:30-3pm

University of Sussex Conference Centre, Brighton, BN1 9Q

AGENDA
10:30-11:00	Coffee and registration
11:00-11:10	Welcome, Joy Davidson, DCC
11:10-11:30	Why should data management matter to me? Joy Davidson, DCC This introductory session will provide information on why data management should matter to researchers. The talk will cover funding body and research council mandates but also look at institutional policies and codes of practice that researchers should be aware of.
11:30-11:50	Making the case for data management (tbc)
11:50-12:15	Exercises on making the case This session will provide examples of benefits and drivers for different stakeholders to demonstrate how an institutional case could be built. It will use the new DCC briefing document on this topic and draw examples from the first JISC Managing Research Data programme. The exercise will equip delegates with practical next steps and tangible evidence that can be used to help secure buy-in for RDM.
12:15-13:00	Lunch
13:00-13:20	Assessing institutional data management infrastructure, Andrew McHugh, DCC
13:20-13:45	Exercise on assessing institutional data management infrastructure using CARDIO. This session will help participants to understand how they can assess existing data management within their institution by benchmarking their infrastructure provision, skills, support and researcher awareness. The CARDIO approach is collaborative, drawing in a range of viewpoints to benchmark maturity and pinpoint key issues to make a plan for improvement.
13:45-14:05	How to develop a data management and sharing plan, Sarah Jones, DCC
14:05-14:50	Exercise on developing a DMP This session will introduce funders' requirements for data management and sharing plans, as well as presenting tools and guidance available as support. The exercise will equip delegates with an understanding of the process involved in developing a plan and who in the institution could support this.
14:50-15:00	Wrap up and close, Joy Davidson
