Pushing the Boundaries workshop, iPRES 2012, October 1, 2012

Because good research needs good data

Workshop objectives

- Third in a series of iPRES workshops with a focus on curation related education and training
- Reporting on progress of key recommendations from the Aligning National Approaches to Digital Preservation (ANADP) education panel
- Explore existing and emerging initiatives and their potential for wider use and adaptation by institutions, disciplines, regionally, nationally and internationally
- Learn about additional initiatives that may benefit from cooperation and collaboration from participants
